DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF WASHINGTON COUNTY

VOLUME III.

SPRINGFIELD, KY., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1907.

NUMBER 40

POOL

THE 1907 CROP EARLY.

Now's the Time For Washington County Growers to Become Active.

The tobacco farmers in every county in the Burley District should be interested in the pooling of the 1907 crop. From many of these counties the report comes that the work is being earnestly pushed, and that large acreages have already been placed in the '07 pool. It is very pleasing to The Sun to make this announcement. It is the thing to do, and the farmers of Washington county ought to get busy in an effort to get the 1907 crop in this county signed up.

Work will be commenced on the warehouse as soon the weather will permit, and it will doubtless be completed by early spring. Of course, with this warehouse in which to store the tobacco, the 1907 crop will be handled much easier, and in a more satisfactory manner than the present crop. It is believed that at least 80 per cent. of the Washington county crop will be pooled before the first of May.

GET INTO THE POOL!
Make that the battle cry.

C. C. McCHORD

Has Served Kentucky Well...A True Friend of the People.

LaRue Herald: It is now stated by the friends of Mr. C. C. McChord that he will have no opposition in his race for Railroad Commissioner in the Second District, and that when the primary is called, which seems likely, all opposition will fade away. This is as it should be. There is not a better man in the State for the place than Mr. McChord, and the State never derived better service from any man that ever served it than it has from him. He is fearless in his efforts to promote the interests of the people, and without him the railroad commission would be a very much weaker affair than it has been with Mr. McChord's aid.

H. S. TOWLER.

Mr. Towler is the assistant manager of the telephone exchange at this place. He has done much to perfect the system in this county, and Springfield has never had a more accommodating or painstaking telephone man than Mr. Towler. Washington county now has one of the most perfect systems in the State, and this is largely due to his efforts. He has done good work for the company; he has done good work for the patrons.

"Regular as the Sun"

is an expression as old as the race. No doubt the rising and setting of the sun is the most regular performance in the universe, unless it is the action of the liver and bowels when regulated with Dr. King's New Life Pills. Guaranteed by Haydon & Robertson, druggists. 25c

NEW BANK PRESIDENT

Mr. W. S. Gibbs Resigns as President of Central Bank.—Dr. Hyatt Elected.

It was with regret, that I tendered my resignation as president of Central Bank of Williamsburg, Ky. But, having sold my farm at that place and having purchased one in the South end of the county, I could no longer do justice to the institution as president. But it gives me great pleasure to say the bank is in a most prosperous condition and its deposits are growing rapidly; hence I heartily recommend it to the public as a safe and trustworthy institution, as it is managed by a directory of good, financial, business men.

This Feb. 4th, 1907.

W. S. Gibbs.

At a meeting of the directors of the Central Bank at Williamsburg Dr. W. W. Hyatt was unanimously elected President. Mr. W. S. Gibbs, as announced above, having resigned on account of having sold his farm at that place and bought another near Springfield, to which he will soon move. Mr. Gibbs' departure and his resignation as President of the bank will be much regretted. He is a good citizen, an excellent business man, and his influence would have been worth much to the new bank. However, the directors acted wisely in selecting Dr. Hyatt as president of the institution. He is recognized as one of Washington county's safest business men, and he has many strong friends who will be drawn to the bank through his influence.

DEATH

MRS. RODMAN WILLIAMS.

God has again shown us that this is not our abiding home. On Feb. the 2nd, 1907, the death angel visited the Pleasant Grove community and claimed for its own the wife of Dr. Rodman Williams, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Vanarsdale. Mrs. Williams was born November 23, 1882, and was married to Dr. Rodman Williams June 15th, 1905. She professed faith in Christ at the age of 18 and united with the Presbyterian church at Pleasant Grove, of which she remained a faithful member until her death. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Overstreet Feb. 4th, at 11 o'clock, a. m., from the Presbyterian church, and a long line of near and dear relatives and friends followed her remains to the family burying ground in the Pleasant Grove cemetery, and while the solemn procession lingered around all that remained of a dear wife and daughter, a sweet, resigned prayer rising from the depth of every soul seemed to imprint itself upon every reverently bowed head and sing its way up to the throne of heaven. It is a mysterious providence that takes away the promising young, but God rules in wisdom as well as in love. Heavenly treasure to the bereaved should be regarded better than earthly treasure; for you sorrow not as those who have no hope. The earthly home is poor, but the heavenly mansions are richer. A little while of anxious waiting dear husband, parents, brothers and sisters and the loved ones will be yours again in relation never to be broken.

She's gone, but there's a ray of light
Which unto all is given;
Assuring us that if we strive,
We'll meet our friends in Heaven.

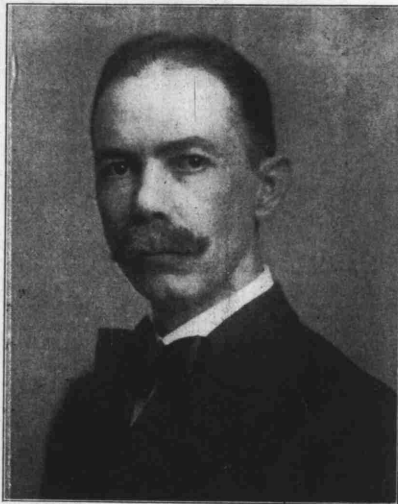

"It's hard to give our loved ones up,
To see them suffer pain—
Yet God hath said that in our loss
Is their eternal gain."

Then do those guide our steps, O Lord,
While through this world we're driven,
That we may meet our dear loved ones
At thy right hand in Heaven.

O. G.

Declared Insane.

Mr. Hanson Robertson, of the Texas neighborhood, was declared to be of unsound mind yesterday in the county court. Mr. Robertson went blind some time ago and it is thought that despondency caused by his blindness was the cause of his insanity. Mr. Robertson is about forty years of age and is a married man with eight children.

HON. C. C. McCHORD

As Chairman of the Kentucky Railroad Commission he has rendered the people of the State valuable service. It is now a candidate for reelection and the people he has so faithfully served will elect him. His defeat would be a calamity to Kentucky. Therefore, the people will interest themselves in his election. They will see to it, gentlemen of the opposition. Remember! THEY WILL SEE TO IT in a most satisfactory manner!

RAILROAD COMMISSIONER

To Be Nominated April 2 In this District.

PRIMARY ELECTION CALLED.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 1—A primary election, to be held on Tuesday, April 2 next, to select the Democratic nominee for Railroad Commissioner for the Second Railroad District of Kentucky, to-day was ordered by the party committee for the district, in session at the Capital Hotel here. The committee was unanimous in the action taken. The Hon. Charles McChord, of Washington county, present Commissioner and chairman of the State Committee, and J. S. Botts, an attorney of Lexington, attended the meeting and announced that they will enter the primary.

Under the call issued by the District Committee, an assessment of $5,000 is made to cover the expense of the primary in the thirty-two counties comprising the district, this to be apportioned among the candidates entering the contest. Candidates desiring to run must announce their intention to a subcommittee, having the primary in charge, on or before March 12 next, and pay their proportion of the assessment on or before March 18. All known Democrats who will be legal voters at the November, 1907, election, are invited to participate in the primary. The returns from the precincts are to be canvassed in the counties and reported to Chairman Norton Fitch, of the subcommittee, on April 5, following the primary, and the District Committee will meet in Louisville April 11 for the purpose of canvassing returns and announcing the result.

In the event but one candidate announces by March 12, the last day for entering the race, the committee will call off the primary and declare that candidate the nominee of the party for the office. The details of the primary will be looked after by a subcommittee composed of Norton Fitch, of Nicholasville; Sam T. Spalding, of Lebanon, and Biscoe Hindman, of Louisville.

The date, April 2, was selected because on that day primary elections are to be held in the Sixth Appellate district, now represented upon the bench by Judge John M. Lassing, of Boone county, and in the Fifteenth Judicial district, composed of the counties of Boone, Carroll, Gallatin, Grant and Owen.

The only persons in attendance upon the committee meeting to-day were Commissioner McChord and J. S. Botts and James Rogers, of Lexington. Mr. McChord did not go into the committee room, but Mr. Botts did so, and made a brief talk to the Committee members. He began by declaring that he would remain in the race in either a primary election or a convention. However, he spoke strongly for a convention to make the nomination.

SPRINGFIELD CITIZENS

Should Put Their Heads Together And Make Graded School Tournament a Success.

The Graded School Tournament, which was organized several years ago, and which is a most important factor in stimulating interest in educational affairs in Kentucky, will be held this year in Springfield. The enterprising and popular principal of our school has been lucky enough to succeed in securing this much sought after event.

From a business stand point, it means much to the town. It brings about four hundred contestants, and equally as many visitors to our town; they will be with us for several days; they will all spend money; because they are "youngsters," and youngsters can certainly spend the coin; and thus the merchants of Springfield will be benefited.

In order to make the tournament a success, the business men of the town must become interested. They must be willing to donate medals, and give financial aid as well as to co-operate with the Principal of the school in the work of getting the tournament up.

The tournament was held in Harrodsburg last year and was a great success. The people of Harrodsburg extended the glad hand to all comers. The business men stood out side their stores and bade everybody welcome with a cheery smile and a happy salutation. Let's show the people of central Kentucky what we can do—let's make them have such a nice time that they will leave our town proclaiming its greatness—let's make them feel that Springfield is the best town in the State. Harrodsburg made the tournament a success, Lebanon made its chautauqua a success, so let us make our tournament a success. But we must all work.

This is an opportunity to show our hospitality. The citizens of our town must entertain all contestants, and this means that everybody must be willing to take several in their homes and entertain them for two or three days.

In conclusion, Three cheers for the tournament; let's make it a great success. B. B.

LITTLE DAUGHTER

Of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Wells Severely Burned Last Morning.

Julia Muir Wells, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Dudley Wells, who recently moved from this place to Lebanon, was quite seriously burned Monday morning about 10 o'clock, her clothes having caught fire from an open grate. Miss Sadie Mayes, of this place, who is visiting Mrs. Wells, was in the room with the child, and it is due to her efforts perhaps that the little one's life was saved. However, Mrs. Wells, who was attracted by the child's screams, ran in the room and assisted in extinguishing the flames. Both Miss Mayes and Mrs. Wells received slight burns on the hands.

The child's burns are confined mostly to the back and hips, and in two or three places are deep. However, physicians do not apprehend any serious results. At first it was feared that pneumonia might develop, but this danger is now passed.

BUSINESS

Made Good For Black & Johnson By Half Page Advertisement in The Sun.

Black & Johnson, of Pulliam, telephone us that they are doing an immense business as a result of the half page advertisement they have been running for the past three weeks in The Sun. There are few firms in Washington county who do more hustling than Black & Johnson. And they get the business, too. They fight mail order houses with the same weapons that mail order houses fight the country merchant—printer's ink. Mr. Johnson informs The Sun that he will not let an issue of the paper go to press without an advertisement from his firm when we succeed in putting the Sun into the homes of a large part of people in that section. Nine new subscriptions were telephoned us from Williamsburg last Saturday, and our list has been increasing in that section for several months. In a few weeks longer we expect to open our subscription books to Black & Johnson—and your attention will then be called to the weekly ads. of this enterprising firm.

REV. LYON

Conducting Successful Meeting In Ohio County.

Rev. G. W. Lyon, pastor of the Methodist church at this place, has been in a protracted meeting at Hartford for the past two weeks, and is meeting with unusual success. The last issue of the Hartford Herald says of Bro. Lyon and the meeting:

We have all fallen in love with Bro. Lyon, the sweet singer. He seems never to tire. He has taught our people a number of new songs and among them the famous "Glory" song.

His sermon on Sunday morning, on the Crucifixion of Christ, was one long to be remembered here. Beautiful in thought and diction, faultless in rhetoric, burdened with the deepest pathos, it charmed the ear and touched the deeper chords of the soul. He is a great and successful worker in and after service. The people of Hartford will never forget Bro. Lyon.

There were seven who joined the Methodist church on Sunday morning and, we learn, too at the Baptist church.

The meeting Monday night was a great one—five penitents, two professions of aic, near the close of the service, stood up for prayer. There is no thought of closing the meeting while the interest is so great.

WASHINGTON COUNTY

M. D's. Raise the Price A Little.

SCHEDULE OF PRICES GIVEN.

The physicians of Washington county devoted their last meeting to a discussion of the problem of the betterment of the profession, and of the means necessary to properly equip themselves individually and collectively to do better work and to give their patients a higher class of service.

Medical science is advancing more rapidly than any other branch of human knowledge. A Medical book over five years old is out of date. Instruments and appliances are constantly improving. Time was when a pair of saddle-pockets and a lancet and a few needles, made up the doctors outfit. Today an elaborate and expensive equipment is a necessity.

It is our opinion that the chief obstacle to the average physician properly equipping himself for the best class of service, of which he is capable is the lack of means. We live in an age of high prices. Everything we eat and wear comes higher than an few years ago.

While the prices for physicians' services in this county are lower than formerly. In view of these facts we have fixed up a schedule of prices; which will make a slight increase in our income, though with the exception of the increased price per visit in the town of Springfield, it is the same rate that was in operation here a few years ago.

It is our opinion that it is to the interest of every individual in the county to see to it that his physician is properly equipped to do good up-to-date practice. Your lives and the lives of your families depend on this.

You do not see many rich doctors. Men grow rich in every other line of occupation, but if a doctor has made enough to support his family and keep up his library and office equipment to the high water mark he can be called a success. You have seen no doctor in this county grow rich.

We stand as we have always stood, ready to do our share of charity. No sufferer shall say of that that he has called on us in vain. But, charity aside, the laborer is worthy of his hire, and the class of work the doctor is doing should merit more than a mere living. The following is the schedule of prices agreed upon.

Ordinary visit in the town of Springfield ..... $ 1.50
Up to and including one mile ..... 1.50
Over one mile and up to and including two miles ..... 2.00
Over two miles and up to and including three and one-half miles ..... 2.50
Over three and one-half miles and up to and including five miles ..... 3.00
Over five miles the rate shall be one dollar for first mile and fifty cents for each additional mile thereafter.

Night visits shall be one and one-half the amount of ordinary day visit.

The minimum fee for consultation shall be ..... 10.00
The minimum fee for obstetric case shall be ..... 10.00

Each subsequent visit shall be charged at regular schedule rate.

OFFICE VISIT—
Physical examinations ..... 2.00
Office treatment ..... 1.00

WASHINGTON COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY.

Organized.

Marion Falcon: The temperance people have organized and are in splendid shape to make a winning fight against the saloons. The Lebanon Anti-Saloon League is the name adopted and Rev. J. A. Hogarty was elected President and Rev. T. M. Cornellison, Secretary. The membership roll includes the names of some of Lebanon's most prominent and successful business and professional men as well as those of the humbler walks of life, and we assure the friends of temperance that an honest, honorable battle, devoid of strife and ill feeling, will be vigorously waged until the hour of closing the polls on March 26, 1907.

THE SPARROW —AND— THE OWL.

THE SPARROW.

I received a telephone message last Thursday morning to come to Texas as soon as possible. The fellow who called me seemed to be very much excited, and I said to him "if anybody is sick you ought to call a doctor." He assured me that all were well, but said you are needed! Come! I was engaged in a very important matter here in Springfield (helping Bill Claybrooke select the prettiest girl from two photographs which he has in his possession) but I dropped this matter and went to Texas. I went around to the fellow's house who had called me, and found him as mad as a hornet. He had just received his wife's military bill for the past year, amounting to $18.95—most of which was for feathers. He wanted to know if there was any way—or rather if I could suggest any way—to keep his wife from investing so much in feathers. I told him that he was up against a hard proposition, that women WILL HAVE spring hats, summer hats, fall hats and winter hats every year, and that about the only way, in my opinion, to stop the women from buying a new hat for every season would be to schedule the seasons differently—and only have a new season every twelve months. He didn't think that could be done, and I suggested that he tell her she looked mighty pretty in a sun-bonnet. He said that wouldn't work, that his wife knew she was very ugly, and that she couldn't be convinced that a sunbonnet would make her look prettier. I made a number of other suggestions, but none of them seemed to please the fellow. Finally he said "You step in The Springfield Sun and have 'em quit advertising for the milliners or stop my paper. My wife reads the millinery advertisements every week, and they put ideas in her head." I told The Sun and they stopped his paper. Because the milliners will advertise.

I heard a woman in Springfield abuse her husband in a few mornings ago because he wouldn't help her wash the breakfast dishes. You would be surprised if you knew the number of men in Springfield who are expert dish washers.

I am glad to see the farmers in every section of the county taking an interest in this tobacco movement. It's a good thing, and if I owned a farm and a crop of tobacco I would be an enthusiastic member. Will Nally, of Fenwick, President of the County Local, is doing much good work—even to the neglect of personal duties.

Thus far this winter hasn't given the "old timers" a chance to complain about cold weather. Of course, Old Jack Frost has been abroad in the land for several weeks, and there are no roses blooming, but, barring the recent rains, we are all well satisfied. I noticed a Jay bird here a few days ago; that I believe is an indication that we are going to have an early spring. However, if the ground hog saw his shadow, and Judge Latsey was heard to remark that he believed there would be some very cold weather this month and next.

Bob Noe gave me a little information a few days ago which astonished me. He said that Geo. Catlett had concluded not to go fishing next summer, in order to keep his reputation as a fisherman from being further damaged. I am informed that his record last summer was very poor. In fact, a gentleman told me that all the fish he caught were "seined."

Chamberlain's
Cough Remedy
The Children's Favorite
Coughs, Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.
This remedy is famous for its power over a large part of the civilized world. It can be used by the most delicate child and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult.
Price 25 cts; Large Size, 50 cts.

Evans Hagan has threatened me, and gives as his reason that I have been talking about his pa. But that's too thin! His pa is a good friend of mine, and I have said nothing but good about him. Evans Hagan about another matter. I saw him fill out a check like this a few nights ago: "Pay to —, tailors, $62.50 for suit of clothes over a large part of the civilized world. It can be used by the most delicate child and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. Price 25 cts; Large Size, 50 cts."

THE OWL.

I was astonished, bewildered and grieved at a "conversation" I heard last Thursday night between two young men in Springfield. They were engaged in calling one another liars, and some things that won't do to print. I have been under the impression that these young men were members of the church, but I guess I was mistaken, as church members don't curse, that is the preachers think their brethren don't curse. From what I could gather the two boys were angry over a game of craps—not craps—craps, the con game. One of 'em had lost 30 cents—borrowed money—and he seemed to feel bad over it. It looked like a scrap, but City Marshal Phillips came up and they commenced to whistle the doxology. They are both considered good boys, but I have doubted the religious sincerity of one of these fellows since one night last summer when I saw him making goo-goo eyes at a wax figure in a show window in Louisville, a farmer having paid his way to that city in order to have him help unload some hogs which had been shipped from Springfield.

I have more trouble with old maids than I do with the younger set. I am always uneasy when I am "watching and listening" around where they are. Some of them are dangerous. I have known one or two owls to drop dead when a certain old maid turned her wrath loose. Some old maids, however, are well-behaved, and very loving, and I am their friend. I made an old maid shot from a Gatling gun, and I had to get Dr. RoBards to give me a quieting powder. She frightened me so badly that I flew against the cupola to the court house and knocked out six of my tail feathers. If she ever gets married her husband will have to be deaf, dumb and blind to enjoy life.

I was in Mackville Friday evening. Wasn't anything doing out there. Everything was very quiet, and it strikes me that Mackville is a law-abiding, Christian town. The only thing I saw while there that looked the least bit crooked was a nigger with a lot of chickens in a bag. I also heard a boy say if he didn't get a certain girl to elope with him he would take carbolic acid, morphine and rough-nuts, and then cut his throat and blow his brains out.

Dr. Shehan, over at Maud, is an excellent gentleman and a good doctor. He rode four miles the other night to see a woman who was reported dying. When the doctor arrived he found that she was "suffering" from a spell of "fluorination," a disease that is often caused by an excessive and heated confab with the next-door-neighbor or by the drunkenness and disorderly conduct of "the old man." However, the good doctor told her that she needed rest (that tonic that so many people like to have prescribed) and she has been resting ever since.

I heard Jim Graves and Will Hagan talking a few nights ago, and they both agreed to investigate King Edward's proposition to help them find a Princess in England, and if there is any probability of the King's finding a couple with lots of coin they will investigate the matter. They both decided to "run over" and see Edward one night next week.

Make a working map of the farm, noting each section or plot of ground the crop grows on, the changes that would be advisable in rotation, the plots most in need of fertilizer, where repairs are most needed or special work must be done during the winter and early spring. In this way the work on the farm will be kept well in hand and you will remember some things that would otherwise be forgotten.

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Sunshine as well as fresh air are needed to make the stables sweet.

Broad-headed horses are the cleverest.

A farm without small fruits—what a barren, uninviting place it is.

A hole in the stable soon wears a hole in your pocketbook.

Clean pork cannot be grown in filthy pens, remember that.

The pig must be a good mathematician, for he is good at square root.

It is an old saying that the "Sheep never dies in debt to its owner," and the same may be said of many cows.

A breeder has made the statement that there are no dun horses among thoroughbreds.

Good ventilation will solve the dampness problem in the poultry house to large extent.

It is claimed that grapes at two cents a pound are more profitable than wheat at one dollar a bushel.

Hand work can be given the well-bred, well-cared-for horse earlier than to the other kind.

Study and know your horse, his strength, his speed, and never force him beyond the limit.

Cool the milk quickly and thoroughly, and the milk will keep much better and longer.

Where corn stalks is the main feed the sheep should be given some grain and roots to balance the ration.

It is well to remember during these cold windy days never to leave the horse tied with his head to the wind.

Heavy woolled sheep should not be allowed to get wet, as the weight of water is sufficient sometimes to prevent the animals from rising.

Some of those sweet apples you don't know what to do with will be a regular treat to the hogs, and they make good flavored pork.

Many a cow is encouraged to kick by the much hasty manner of taking hold of her teats at the beginning of the milking operation.

The best milking machine which man has yet been able to devise is the four finger and the thumb combination.

Sometimes the obstruction in the throat of cattle cannot be dislodged and relief may be found in pouring warm turpentine or linseed oil or warmed lard or tallow.

Green food is particularly advantageous to animals that are fed largely on corn in the winter. Cabbage, sugar beets, turnips, carrots, and the like are much appreciated.

Give the horse a dry bed to sleep on. Clean his stable every day. Separate the wet bedding from the dry. The wet that is not too much soiled may be dried and used again.

The tops of sugar beets make excellent feed for stock, and may be well preserved in a silo. Sometimes they are left on the field and the stock turned in to eat.

Help is scarce in the south. Only 80 per cent. of the cotton machinery is running, as competent help cannot be secured to run the other 20 per cent.

When the ice gets thick enough is the time to begin ice cutting. Delay may lose you your opportunity, and there have been seasons, you know, when the first chance has been the last.

It is a good thing for the horse's hoofs to throw the manure or wet straw under so he can stand upon it and keep his hoofs moist, but don't let the soft manure get packed in the shoe and stay there.

Make a working map of the farm, noting each section or plot of ground the crop grows on, the changes that would be advisable in rotation, the plots most in need of fertilizer, where repairs are most needed or special work must be done during the winter and early spring. In this way the work on the farm will be kept well in hand and you will remember some things that would otherwise be forgotten.

Black & Johnson's

Great Mid-Winter Clearance Sale

Will Continue From This Date Until February 11th, 1907

And will be the most extraordinary Bargain-Giving Sale ever inaugurated in Washington county. We have bought an immense stock of Spring Goods, and we must make room before the shipments begin to arrive. This sale will positively afford you an opportunity to buy goods at ridiculously low figures.—SOME ARTICLES AT COST, MANY BELOW COST.

Clothing.

A great stock of Clothing will be sold at sacrifice prices. We have some excellent qualities, and we have cut the price nearly half in two.

For Example, $12.50 Suits, $7.50
" " 10.00 " 6.00
" " 9.00 " 5.00
" " 7.50 " 4.50
" " 5.00 " 2.50

Men's Pants 50 cents up

A few Overcoats at very greatly reduced prices, also a lot of nice Furs at about half price.

Notice!

Credit will be given as heretofore but Cash will buy goods much cheaper.

Let us impress upon you that these prices will be for Cash—Strictly Cash. If you want credit you must pay the old price—you must pay us a profit. Bring the cash, that's the thing to do. We desire to thank our customers for past patronage, and, of course, we will very much appreciate a continuance of same. We will be found at the same old stand and will continue to conduct our business in the same old way. Bring us your Produce.

Goods in every department of our store have been marked down. Not an article in our house will be spared from this slaughter sale.

Lap Robes

We have a beautiful and excellent line of Winter Lap Robes. THEY MUST GO! And to make them go we are willing to lose money upon them. Come in and price them and take one home with you. Winter has not yet commenced in earnest, and the indications are that she will be found lounging in the lap of spring. You will need a heavy robe.

Odds and Ends and Remnants

Will be sold "at what they will bring." Indeed we will almost be tempted to let "you name the price and take the goods." Odds and ends in pants will give you an opportunity to buy a good pair of pants for little money. We can not begin to name the articles which will be placed on the "Odds and Ends and Remnant Counter." Come in and see—Come early. You will find many bargains.

Felt Boots and Rubbers come under the head of "Slaughter." Bed Blankets and comforts are also likewise caught in this great current of reduction in prices.

It Will Pay You to Ride a Long Distance to Buy Goods From Us.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

We are indeed glad to be able to report that the Spalding affair which was briefly outlined in the last number of the Sun, has sufficiently blown over to permit the faculty to hear all of their regular recitations without fear of disturbance on the part of angry and outraged students.

A very entertaining and profitable meeting of the Literary and Debating Society was held last Friday. Leo Simms was elected, after a sharp contest with Lyman Barber, to be chairman at the contest to be held the twenty-second. The returns showed twenty-five votes for Barber and twenty-seven for Simms. The election of the regular officers for the ensuing term was next taken up. In a speech replete with well worded praise, Miss Mary Lampton presented the name of Mr. Lyman Barber before the society, as president, and he was elected without opposition. Mr. Edw. Willett next came forward in a witty speech and nominated John Claybrooke for Vice-president. This election also was unanimous. Finley Scruggs was elected Secretary, and Stanley Dawson will keep order for the society in the role of Sergeant-at-Arms. The debate was next listened to and was enjoyed thoroughly by all who heard it. The subject was, "Resolved that the old-fashioned woman of yesterday was the ideal type of womanhood." The treatment of this subject was interesting because of the many points of view with which it was regarded. The decision was given to the affirmative. There were also several enjoyable musical numbers. A quartette, consisting of Misses Mary Haydon and Sue Ray and Messrs Will Waters and George Colvin, sang "Down by the Old Sunnee." Miss Sae Ray and Prof. Thompson played a guitar duet, "Scotch Dance," by Bane. Misses Ray and Numan, and Prof. Hume and Thompson played a guitar quartette, "Ring Leader," by Bane. The society will meet a week from next Friday and will then debate the subject, "Resolved that music should be included in the regular course of instruction in graded schools."

Work is beginning in regard to the big Graded school tournament to be held here the latter part of May. On the first Friday in March a contest will be held in the school building for representatives in the various declamatory contests. All the students of the school may contest, who desire, and a very spirited rivalry may be expected. Springfield was not at all satisfied with the showing we made last year in regard to points, albeit we made a very creditable record and felt that we had won a medal or two that went elsewhere. This year we will make entries in nearly every contest and hope to win the pennant. The tournament will bring from five hundred to a thousand people to town and we will have to make an extra effort to accommodate them all.

Leo Simms has again entered school and added his voice to the debates and declamations that are in the making.

John Claybrooke paid another visit to Bloomfield, Saturday and Sunday. If this keeps up we will no longer have a bachelor student.

They were going to have a play, But the troupe, they wouldn't act. For the play is weak, they say, So it, for a sorry fact, Fell through.

They had such a grand debate, And our men were speakers all, But the side was all too weak And as all such things must fall, Fell through.

They were going out exploring, Minton and some other boys, But the attic floor was weak and Minton with some other noise, Fell through.

The rhetoric class has been studying the writing of letters for the past week and Dick Barber has become the authority. He says that it is entirely proper under proper circumstances to subscribe oneself, "Yours trewer, Dick." He gave a discussion at some length, the other day on the salutation, but we feel that we must spare the reader of a report of it for most of them have past the age when flowers and candy meant words to a boy's or girl's hearts.

Prof. Colvin was absent from school Monday and Tuesday but returned Wednesday morning to take up his regular duties just the same as he did before he had a son and heir. During his absence, Prof. Thompson was in charge.

A large number of students went coasting Monday night and reported fine sport, much to the detriment of Tuesday's lessons.

Robert Gray, who was with us last year has returned to school, and will take the normal course.

Lived at Lebanon.

Lebanon Enterprise: Elder Robert A. Hopper, aged 72 years, died suddenly Monday night at his home in Santa Ana, California, of kidney trouble. The interment took place Wednesday at Long Beach, Cal.

Mr. Hopper was for more than forty years a leading minister in the Christian church. He was born in Nicholas county but in early manhood went to Missouri where he resided for something like twenty years. He returned to Kentucky and for many years lived in this city, preaching at several different churches in this and adjoining counties while he made Lebanon his home. Later he moved south, and finally to California. Two brothers, J. W. Hopper, of the Courier-Journal, and D. M. Hopper, of Santa Ana Bulletin, and one sister, Mrs. Mollie Tanner, of Louisville, survive him.

The Best Physic.

When you want a physic that is mild and gentle, easy to take and pleasant in effect, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Price 25 cents. Every box warranted. Get a free sample at Red Cross Drug Store, Springfield, and try them.

Lost a Finger.

Lebanon Enterprise: Mr. Ben H. Blanford, engineer on the Louisville and Nashville, met with a painful accident Sunday evening. He was oiling his engine, preparatory to making his run from Louisville to Greensburg, when the hoister started the engine. The wheel caught the little finger of his right hand cutting it off completely and bruised the other fingers of the same hand considerably. He is a nephew of Mr. T. W. Blanford, of this city, and a brother of Mr. Herman Blanford, the well known local painter.

IT'S A LUCKY THING FOR HARRY.

If Harry Thaw had been the son of a poor woman his finish would have been witnessed many months ago. He would now be sleeping his last, long sleep, and his poor old mother, bowed low under the weight of misery and disgrace, would be praying to God for a surcease of sorrow—for the tides to come in from the great, mystic seas of an unknown world and bear her soul away from a cheerless hearthstone and a universe of heart-aches. The shadows never leave the heart of a mother when an off-spring dies an ignoble death. And where's the woman or the man who would blame Harry Thaw's mother for trying to save the boy? It's a lucky thing for Harry that he is the son of a very rich woman—a woman who will spend her thousands in battling with the laws of New York. And in the end her thousands will win; justice will be defeated, and Harry Thaw will walk from the tombs a free man, but a despicable, sneaking assassin. When the laws of the land—those all-powerful laws of which we Americans boast—the bed-rocks of our institutions and the pillars of our civilization—engage in combat with hoarded-up coin of the realm the laws are thwarted and whipped and made as worthless as a bunch of last year's almanacs.

If Harry Thaw's lawyers, the most brilliant in the world, one of whom is paid the fabulous fee of $100,000, can not dethrone justice by "presto change" methods, with technicalities or jugglery, then the insanity dodge will be resorted to. The jury will hear the evidence of "experts" and the wrangling of lawyers, look into the prisoner's wild eyes, become confused, go into the jury room and disagree—the next best thing to an acquittal. Harry will be allowed bail, and—that will settle it.

Justice—The Mighty—will be as a "stuck" pig in a slaughter house, and "filthy lucre" will strut away with the trophies of battle.

But when the cost is summed up and totaled in red it will be found that Mrs. Thaw has paid out about one million "jinglers" for a 30-cent ingrate.

To the public it will seem that she cheated herself.

One million dollars for "A rag, a bone, and a hank of hair!"

Ridiculous!

But the mother will be satisfied! She, no doubt, would spend her last cent and become a pauper—leave her palatial home and abide in a hut, battle with poverty and hardships, and beg upon the streets if these things were necessary to save this worthless one.

There is nothing out of heaven prettier than a mother's love.

The "reputations" of weather prophets have been greatly damaged this winter. Weather charts have been maliciously misleading and a menace to the public.

Pool your crop of 1907.

M. H. JONES

Has Built Up a Great Business in Springfield.—Pays to the Farmers of Washington County Over $100,000 Annually

Mr. M. H. Jones, the Poultry Man, is one of the busiest men in Washington county. "Hustle! and then hustle some more!" is his motto. If he receives a telegram on Monday calling for a carload of chickens for Saturday shipment, HE SHIPS ON SATURDAY!—a full carload—and that's all there is to it. He advertises in "big, black type," and the chickens come in from the byways and highways. Mr. Jones has built up an immense business in Springfield, and pays to the farmers of Washington county over $100,000 annually. He's a member of the "big Jones family" and is one of those fellows who helps to make the old world move with a hum.

Health officers are now demanding that telephone transmitters and receivers be disinfected. Of course microbes are not sent by wire, but they are carried in almost every other conceivable way, and no doubt it will be safest to occasionally disinfect your phone. However, some folks contend that conversations are often very hard to "catch," and, as they are paying for the privilege of "catching and being caught," they are afraid that if the germs are removed there will be times when a fellow can't "catch" anything over the telephone.

Newspapers all over the country are printing a story about the suspension of a paper in the Ohio penitentiary because the only printer in the pen had served his time, "set his last take," dropped his stick and walked out to again "breathe the free air of liberty." It is said the editor of this paper, who is also a convict, will consider it a favor if two or three printers will steal a horse or hang a nigger somewhere in the State of Ohio, as he desires to resume the publication of the paper, and prove to the people that the "pen" is mightier than the sword.

The automobile trust and the people of Ohio are fighting. But the chances are that the auto trust will "fight and run away, and live to fight another day." Nevertheless the people auto fight the auto trust.

Mr. J. J. Botto, of Boston, Nelson county, in a letter to The Sun renewing his subscription, says: "I see that one of your correspondents is for Judge Thurman for Governor. We, down here in the 'crawfish' end of Nelson county, are for him for President or anything else."

We are glad to announce this week that the "Thaw jury" has been completed.

Jack Chinn's Corn Crop.

Farmers Home Journal: Col. Jack Chinn, of Harrodsburg, Ky., cannot be caught with gold bricks, seedless apples, sure tips on races, etc., but in agricultural matters he is always ready to investigate modern methods and adopt them if he finds common sense and reason to back them. Last year we reported his plan for making cigarette tobacco and his success when his crop was put on the market. During the past year Col. Chinn has been watching the Farmers' Institutes held in the various counties and seems to have profited by putting to practical use some of the methods suggested by the experts at these institutes. The Harrodsburg Herald, Col. Chinn's home paper, says:

Last spring Col. Jack Chinn planted 17 acres in corn and cultivated it after the direction of the experts who conducted the Farmers' Institutes here. He bought the selected seed, gave the ground the shallow culture and followed instructions to the letter. The result was beyond his anticipation. His 17 acres averaged a yield of 21 barrels to the acre. The usual yield after old manner of cultivation, in this part of the country, is from eight to nine barrels to the acre.

FINE STOCK

EDITOR SUN:—I have just returned from a short trip through Indiana and Kentucky in the interest of my business of handling Duroc Hogs. We people of Washington county think hogs are bringing high prices here. They are, but they are even higher in other places. I saw fat hogs shipped from Indiana last Wednesday at $6.65 at shipping stations, and stock hogs change hands at 7 and 7½ cents and every where brood sows and sows and pigs were simply out of sight and it looked as if everybody was hunting for them. I came back to Kentucky and bought. You know of Kentucky's famous trio, handsome women, fine horses and good whiskey. Well you can stick another flower in that bunch and call it the Big Four, for Kentucky undoubtedly had the best red hogs I saw anywhere both in individuals and breeding. Some people may say the hog has no business in the above class. Well he may not, anyhow he is nearly King at the present price and demand. Well as I said, I came back to Kentucky and bought. I paid for them! Yes! Lord but I paid for 'em. But I have got the goods. It's hats off to nobody now in the red hog business. I want to say to my friends and customers that in the coming spring and summer I will be able to furnish them any thing they may want, in pairs or trons of no akin.

Minnesota Homesteader Bound For a
Dance Interrupted by Wild
Brutes—Makes Them
Wait to Death.

Wirt, Minn.—The only man in this part of the country that can play a fiddle worth while is Henry Hinkens, a homesteader, whose services are always in demand whenever the lumberjacks give a dance, which they did the other night at Hought.

After Hinkens had eaten his supper and done the evening chores about his place he put his kit under his arm and started on the seven-mile tramp through the woods to Hought. There was considerable snow on the ground, the thermometer was hovering about the zero mark and the sky was clear and brilliant with stars. Hinkens trudged along the lonely trail, whistling the latest dance tune and occasionally snapping his hands together to keep them warm.

He had gone but a couple of miles when he heard the distant bay of a wolf. He paid no attention to it, for wolves are common in this section and rarely attack a man unless pressed by hunger. Nevertheless, when he heard several answering howls Hinkens quickened his pace and occasionally threw an apprehensive glance over his shoulder. It was not long before he discovered that half a dozen, his gray fellows were trotting down the trail after him, only a few hundred yards away.

The homesteader was unarmed, and, seeing a giant pine partly broken off by the wind, near the trail, decided to ascend it in the hope that the wolves would pass him by unnoticed. He reached the top of the stump, a trifling six feet above the level of the snow, none too soon, for the band of wolves instead of passing on down the trail, followed his footsteps to the foot of the pine, and seeing their prey, sat down on their haunches and awaited developments.

Nothing happening, one big fellow, apparently the leader of the band, suddenly leaped at Hinkens' feet, which were hanging carelessly down the side of the tree trunk. Hinkens drew them up just in time to escape having his flesh nipped and then the rest of the band began to follow their leader and see how near they could come to nipping the treed homesteader.

Hinkens began to find their amusement rather tiresome, and, remembering to have heard somewhere that there is a charm in music which soothes the savage breast, decided to try the effects of a tune upon the wolves. He loosened his kit, drew the fiddle to his chin and, after a little preliminary tuning up, started in with his favorite, "Teasing, Teasing, I was Only Teasing You."

The Wolves Danced in Unison with the Music.

The effect upon the brutes was instantaneous. They stood stockstill for an instant with ears pricked up as if curious to know whence came the lively music. Then the full force of the catchy routine seemed to strike them, and, swaying their bodies in unison with the notes of the music, they began what Hinkens afterward said was the best imitation of a cake walk he had ever seen. The big gray leader was especially active, and cut more fantastic pigeon wings than the biggest "buck" that ever led a walk. By the time "Teasing" was finished Hinkens had warmed to the work, and struck into the "Blue Danube" waltz, and again the timber wolves performed their gyrations in unison with the music.

Hinkens likes to fiddle; with him it is a labor of love. So he continued to play, waltz following waltz, with a wistful thrown in now and then and an occasional divergence to ragtime. And still the wolves leaped and bounded to the strains of the music apparently it had become a contest between man and beast to see which would tire first. Hinkens felt that his reputation was at stake, and saved time after time out of his fiddle with such vigor and animation that he did not notice the lapse of time.

When, however, the lumberjacks were ready to begin their dance, they found their fiddler was absent, and a party of them started down the trail to look for him. They had gone about half the distance when they were puzzled to hear the strains of a waltz wafted on the night air from the woods a little way off the trail. They started to investigate and discovered Hinkens perched on top of the tree stump, fiddling away for dear life.

Five gray wolves were stretched out on the snow, apparently dead, while one immense fellow was circling round and round with faltering step and drooping head, trying in vain to keep time to the exhilarating strains of the waltz which was towing under Hinkens' skilful manipulation of the bow. They gave a shout, and Hinkens dropped his fiddle to the ground, and himself followed it. His arm was so tired he could scarcely raise it, but he was able to whisper in a husky tone: "I outstayed 'em, anyhow."

The wolves were speedily despatched and Hinkens, was lifted on the shoulders of the sturdy "jacks" and carried to the dance hall, where he played for the balance of the night.

KILLS HIMSELF AT A WEDDING

Ceremony Delayed By Bride and Women Becoming Hysterical

New York, Feb. 4.—Standing in the doorway of an apartment where guests had assembled to witness a wedding, a stranger supposed to be Ulderich Hugron, of Waterbury, Ct., blew out his brains. Death was instantaneous.

The bride and many women guests became hysterical and the marriage ceremony was delayed an hour while the cofounder held an impromptu inquiry. The guests declared ignorance of the suicide's identity.

Whipped For Cruelty.
Morgantown, Ky.—About 30 masked men held out Jesse Phelps and took him about one-half mile from this place and whipped him severely. Phelps was accused of cruelty to his 3-year-old child by sticking her with pins and burning her with a hot poker.

Call Primary For April 2.
Frankfort, Ky.—A primary election, to be held on Tuesday, April 2, to select the democratic nominee for railroad commissioner for the 2d railroad district of Kentucky, was ordered by the party committee, in session at the Capital hotel here.

CALIFORNIA GIRL MADE PRISONER BY A BOSS

Cow Snaps Lock of Stable While She Was Feeding Pet Horse—Is Found Asleep.

Vallejo, Cal.—The disappearance and strange return of Miss Elizabeth Keith Pond, daughter of Commander Pond, of Mare island, is still the talk of this place and naval headquarters. It appears that Commander and Mrs. Pond went to Oakland to spend the days. Their daughter called in the evening upon a friend at Mare island, and on the way back to her home, so the story goes, stopped into the stables to feed her favorite horse. While so engaged an old cow that was loose pushed the door shut while reaching for a wisp of hay. The door had a spring lock, and Miss Pond found herself a prisoner. She tried to attract the attention of a marine sentry by pounding on the door, and finding her summons unanswered she made a bed in the hay with a horse blanket and calmly went to sleep while half the naval force of the United States on the Pacific coast threw out a siren's horn a mile long and practically dragged the island for her. Miss Pond's explanation is as follows:

"I was not frightened at all," she said, "for the simple reason that there was nothing to be afraid of. I was surprised when that cow pushed the door shut, and it was very dark and hammering on the door and called out, but as no one answered I laughed at my predicament and decided to make the best of things. I talked to Dick a while and called again, and finally crawled into the hay and lay down to sleep until morning. I went to sleep and was sleeping soundly, as I heard nothing of the noise that was made to find me. I didn't know where I was when I woke up this morning, but when I saw Dick looking at me out of the stall I remembered."

Fierce Fight With Hawk.

Baltimore.—State's Attorney Bussey, of Baltimore county, learned a hawk had lodged in a tree in his yard at Cockeysville through a commotion among the chickens. Mr. Bussey shot the hawk, which fell to the ground. When he went toward it the hawk showed fight, going at him with outstretched wings. Running back, Mr. Bussey fired his second barrel, but the shot only made the hawk more infuriated. It made another attack on the attorney who turned and ran. Seizing a club he again returned, and the fight between man and hawk began in earnest. Mr. Bussey landed a blow on the hawk's head. This stunned it and enabled the man to kill it.

Lays Empty Egg Shells.

Bedford, Ind.—William Meadows, of this city, has a white Wyandotte hen that lays empty egg shells. The shells are large, well shaped and resemble an ordinary egg, but they contain neither yolk nor white matter. One shell is laid each day by the hen.

Greatness and Wisdom.
He is great who can do what he wishes; he is wise who wishes to do what he can.—Hiland.

Refused To "Squelch."

Middleboro, Ky.—John Scott pleaded guilty to the charge that he murdered Lee Napper and was given a life sentence in the penitentiary. Scott says he was hired to kill Napper, but refused to say by whom.

Slightly Improved.
Orlean, N. Y., Feb. 4.—Former Gov. Frank W. Higgins passed a good day. Dr. Hubbard said the patient is slightly better. Dr. Schott left Monday morning, saying the symptoms are slightly improved.

To Rebuild Kingdom.
Kingston, Jamaica, Feb. 4.—The reconstruction committee appointed by Archbishop Nuttall to carry out proposals for the rebuilding of the city met and passed a resolution to ask the imperial government to advance a loan of $5,000,000 at low interest.

Fires Own Funeral Pyre.
Syracuse, Neb., Feb. 4.—After setting fire to his father's barn, John Rammel, a school teacher, 34 years of age, climbed into the hay mow and cut his throat. His body, with the barn and contents, were consumed.

Star Distances.

There are very few stars whose distance is even approximately known to astronomers. Moreover, the different estimates of the distances of these few vary by large amounts. The nearest known star is "Alpha" in the constellation Centaur, not visible from the northern lands of the earth, and one of the very next nearest is the little star in the northern constellation Cygnus, called "61 Cygni." The latest determination of this star makes its distance fifty-three millions of millions of miles. This is about eighteen millions of millions of miles less than the distance derived from Prof. Hall's measurements of some 15 years ago.

Quick-Lunch Railroad Cars.

The Canadian Pacific railroad has hit upon a new idea—a quick-lunch counter car. It is analogous to the ordinary railroad dining car, except that there are no chairs or tables, the space being mainly occupied with a lunch counter 75 feet in length, capable of accommodating 50 passengers at a time, and equipped with a large cooking range. There is also a cellar—a somewhat unusual feature in a railway train—where refrigerated articles of diet will be stored ready for use. The novelty bids fair to become permanently popular.

Novel Souvenirs.

In the way of dinner and luncheon souvenirs there are now charming little Dresden flower pots of tiniest size, containing perfect little china flowers. These may be chosen in facsimile of the actual flowers used on the table.

They are of the most fragile and exquisite workmanship and have been used by several hostesses of originality, serving the guests afterward as charming additions to curio cabinets.

When Cooking Steak.

When beef is tough, twice cooking improves it. Steak half cooked will keep in wet weather and when wanted, the process can be completed with excellent results.

A Habit to Be Encouraged.

The mother who has acquired the habit of keeping on hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, saves herself a great amount of uneasiness and anxiety. Coughs, colds and croup, to which children are susceptible are quickly cured by its use. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and if given as soon as the first symptoms of croup appear, it will prevent the attack. This remedy contains nothing injurious and mothers give it to little ones with a feeling of security. Sold by every reliable dealer in the Blue Grass.

Is a Help to the Serious Student of Music: It Gives Access to the Vast Fields of Musical Literature.

Is an Educator and Assists Materially in Mastering Time, Rhythm and Form.

You don't have to LEARN to play the piano--NOT THIS ONE, the Farrand-Cecilian Piano; for you or anyone else can play it, play any kind of music you want--Classical, Operatic, Dance, Rag Time, or Coon Songs, even though you know nothing about music or piano playing. Just slip in a roll of perforated music as shown in the illustration, put your feet on the pedals and go ahead--that's all you need to do.

The Farrand-Cecilian is a high-grade upright piano with a brilliant, clear, sweet tone, and with the mechanism of the Cecilian Piano Player built inside the case. You can play this piano with the fingers, just the same as you would an ordinary piano, or you can play it with the mechanism of the Cecilian Player, which is built into it, so it is equally available for the wife and daughter, who have spent years of patient study and practice in learning how to play the piano, and for the man who doesn't know a blessed thing about music.

Wouldn't such a piano--a piano that all in the family could play--be used far more than the piano you have now?

Come in and see it anyhow. We'll be glad to show it to you and glad to have you try it. You can buy on very easy terms and we'll take your old piano in exchange, if you have one.

SETTLEMENT EXPECTED

Between Dark Tobacco Growers and the Independents.

Paducah, Ky.--The fight between dark tobacco growers and independent dealers in Lyon and Caldwell counties, Kentucky, which resulted in the town of Princeton being literally arrested and two enormous barns with contents of tobacco burned, with losses of thousands of dollars in property, in Fredonia, Edwylville, Princeton and Kuttawa in the last several months, was settled at Kuttawa.

Association members agreed to see that no more "night rider" raids were made, and that anonymous letters to independent dealers threatening harm to body and property to force them into the association, would cease. As a result of the settlement four big tobacco firms invaded Kuttawa and are doing business.

CAVE

Of Gigantic Size Is Discovered By Accident Near Elkhorn River.

Georgetown, Ky.--The Indian refining employes while drilling for rock struck a gigantic cave. This is located near the Q. & C. railroad bridge and near Elkhorn river. At first only 75 feet was reached by the plant's chemist, who went in attached to a rope. Having reached the end of this an electric bulb showed three passages of seemingly indeterminate length. The explorer states that one of them seemed to dip under Elkhorn river and had the appearance of having been a subterranean stream now dry. The walls are very smooth, but slimy. A rope and sander would not touch bottom, a depth of 300 feet, at one point.

BURNING BOY

Ran a Mile Through the Snow and Fell at His Door.

Dawson Springs, Ky.--Harry Scott, Douglas Doris and James Workman, boys about 15 years old, went into a coal mine and filled their pockets with blasting powder. They came out of the mine and started a fire at its mouth to keep warm. As they stood around the fire emptying their pockets a fearful explosion occurred. Scott was frightfully burned about the face and body, and will probably die. His clothing was completely burned from his body. He ran through the snow for a mile to his home, where he fell in a faint. The other two boys were also badly burned.

NEVER DEFEATED

For Office Was Senator Cammack, Who Seeks Circuit Judgeship.

Frankfort, Ky.--While here, State Senator J. W. Cammack, of Owen county, announced that he would be a candidate for circuit judge in the district composed of Boone, Grant, Owen, Carroll and Gallatin counties. Judge Menfies, of Williamstown, who was appointed by Gov. Beckham as Judge Lawless's successor, will oppose Senator Cammack. It is said the committee favor a primary. Senator Cammack won his spurs in the senate fighting for the county unit local option bill and has never been defeated for an office.

LOSES SUIT TO RECOVER FEES

Frankfort, Ky.--In the Franklin circuit court Judge Stout sustained a state auditor, in which plaintiff sought to recover fees for sitting with the auditor's agent in Louisville in the prosecution of tax suits in the county court. His counsel declined to plead further and will take an appeal to the court of appeals for a final construction of the statute under which the action was instituted.

RETURNS TO THE FOLD

Lexington, Ky.--The Kentucky university, which withdrew from the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic association two years ago on account of alleged unethical rulings of the executive committee, has rejoined the association.

PENANCE FINISHED

By Martin, Who For Seven Years Has Gone Hatless and Barefooted.

Lexington, Ky.--Claybourne Martin, known throughout Kentucky as "Bronze Charlie" because he walked the streets hatless and with his feet bare, no matter how cold or hot the weather, has finished his seven years penance and announces that he will now wear his hat and shoes as other people.

He says that seven years ago the Lord told him he had sinned and he should repent by suffering. He said the spirit told him to bare his feet for seven years. He was run out of a number of towns for his strange actions.

BURST INTO THE HOME,

Shot a Little Girl and Was Then Killed By the Enraged Father.

Jackson, Ky.--Ell Lykins, a whiskey peddler and alleged "bad man," came to a tragic end at Camp Christie, a lumber camp nine miles north of here. He entered the home of Marion Adkins in an intoxicated condition and started to "shoot up" the place. He had already shot one of Mr. Adkins' little girls, when Adkins grabbed his gun and shot Lykins dead on the spot. Adkins came to town and surrendered to the authorities. It can not yet be told whether the little girl will live.

EVERY BONE

In the Electrocuted Engineer's Body Was Fractured.

Somersét, Ky.--Joseph Smith, engineer on an electric light and power plant here, was electrocuted when at work. It is thought that he attempted to close the house and street circuit at the same time. Smith was buried several feet and every bone in his body was broken. Twenty-two hundred volts passed through him.

LEFT A NOTE

Saying He Killed His Stepfather Defending His Mother.

Paducah, Ky.--Because his stepfather, Charles Lewis, assaulted his mother, Joe Faulkner, a tie carrier who came home sick, went to the home of a neighbor, secured a shotgun, and, returning to the house, blew Lewis' head off. Faulkner escaped, leaving a note explaining that he was defending his mother.

COUNTY TO PUT UP $100,000

To Finance the Pooling of the 1906 Tobacco Crop.

Warsaw, Ky.--At a special meeting of the board of control of the Burley Leaf Tobacco association of Gallatin county, held here, representatives of the several banks of the county proposed to put up $100,000 to finance the pooling of the 1906 tobacco crop. The proposition was agreed upon, and the tobacco will begin to come to the warehouses about February 15. Everything points to the ultimate success of the farmers' movement so far as this county is concerned.

Will Handle Tobacco.

Lexington, Ky.--The Payette board of control, of local branch of the American Society of Equity, has filed articles of incorporation here. The object of the organization, it is stated, is to handle the tobacco in connection with the Burley Tobacco society, and to see that each farmer gets a fair price for his product. The largest amount of indebtedness to be incurred is $20,000.

The Judge Reinted.

Shelbyville, Ky.--City Judge O. T. Kallenbacher sentenced Chief of Police C. J. Sullivan, of this city, for contempt and fixed the penalty at six hours in jail, but on the ground that it was the first offense the sentence was remitted.

The Limit of Life.

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period, that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by Hayden & Robertson, Druggists, 50c.

TUMULT IN THE PARIS CHURCH

AT THE FORMATION OF THE INDEPENDENT FLOCK.

Police Were Called and Ejected Militant Catholics Before the Archbishop Proceeded.

Paris, Feb. 4.--Only the presence of the police prevented a riot at the old Barnabite monastery, which has been rechristened the Church of the Holy Apostles, where the French Apostolic Catholic church was inaugurated.

The announcement of the attempt to organize a schism had stirred up the militant Catholics, who organized a hostile reception with the intention of breaking up the services.

Handbills were distributed containing the words of a popular air, describing Archbishop Viatte, head of the independent Catholic movement in America, as an American monkey whom M. Briand, minister of public instruction and worship, desired to make a French pope.

Several thousand persons were outside the church, and scores of others penetrated the already crowded church. Interruptions commenced as soon as Father Roussin, the pastor of the church, began a sermon welcoming the approaching Catholic independence and the dawning of the day when "all the churches of Jesus Christ will unite in Christian charity."

When he thanked Archbishop Viatte for aiding the French Catholics in establishing the first church, saying he was consoled by the Patriarch of Antioch, the successor of St. Peter, a shout in the office, "He is excommunicated," was the signal for a general tumult, and Father Roussin finally was compelled to ask that the pope be summoned.

About fifty persons were expelled from the church and quiet was practically maintained until Archbishop Viatte appeared on the altar in the robe and mitre of an archbishop. Instantly the din began again with redoubled force, almost drowning his words. Nevertheless he calmly continued, saying he had been a missionary for 26 years, but no savage tribe had ever prevented him speaking, and concluding: "Even to those who interrupt and revile me, I say I will not excommunicate. I wish you no ill. God be with you. Amen."

A score or more of other persons were then elected before Archbishop Viatte proceeded with the celebration of pontifical mass, in which he observed the Catholic rites.

FIRE DESTROYS TOBACCO PLANT.

The Stock, Materials and Valuable Machinery a Total Loss.

Cincinnati, Feb. 4.--Raging for over ten hours, a fire that started in the basement of the Day and Night Tobacco Co. plant, at Plum and Genesee streets, entirely consumed the building and the contents.

When night closed in on the still burning building all the floors had been food for the flames, and despite the heroic efforts of the overtaxed fire department, the stock materials and valuable machinery on every floor of the five-story building were a mass of ruins.

The intense cold froze the water as it fell and when the fire was under control a huge iceberg was a mute evidence of the difficulties that had to be encountered in fighting the blaze. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

Woman Dead; Man Will Live.

Auburn, N. Y., Feb. 4.--Ava Kenyon, of Onondaga county, Marie, daughter of Syracuse, in compliance, according to the police, with a suicide pact, each drank the contents of an ounce vial of iodine in a room at the Hotel Hamilton. Mrs. Kenyon is recovering. He is under arrest. The couple have been to Auburn for a week.

Common Colds are the Cause of Many Serious Diseases.

Physicians who have gained a national reputation as analysts of the cause of various diseases, claim that if catching cold could be avoided a long list of dangerous ailments would never be heard of. Every one knows that pneumonia and consumption originate from a cold, and chronic catarrh, bronchitis, and all throat and lung trouble are aggravated and rendered more serious by each fresh attack. Do not risk your life or take the chances when you have a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure it before these diseases develop. This remedy contains no opium, morphine or other harmful drug and has thirty years of reputation back of it, gained by its cures under every condition. For sale by every reliable dealer in the Blue Grass.
